

1. A method of managing continuing education data, comprising the steps of:
 - 2 establishing a service provider website accessible via a communications network;
 - 4 providing a database for storing information related to continuing education activities performed by a subscriber; and
 - 6 forwarding the information to at least one entity upon receiving authorization to do so from the subscriber.
2. The method of claim 1, wherein the information concerns continuing medical education.
3. The method of claim 1, wherein the information concerns continuing nursing education.
4. The method of claim 1, wherein the information concerns continuing legal education.
5. The method of claim 1, wherein the information concerns continuing engineering education.
6. The method of claim 1, wherein the information concerns continuing military education.